To whom it may concern,

I am privileged to write in support of my student teacher, Sandra Froonjian. Ms. Froonjian successfully completed her practicum experience at Mainland Regional High School in Linwood, NJ. She spent the last 8 months observing, assisting, and teaching in my Honors Biology classes. Ms. Froonjian's sweet, kind and friendly personality was a pleasure for both my students and myself. She was a great student teacher and her desire to become an excellent teacher is evident in all that she does.

During Sandy's student teaching experience, she was highly motivated to learn as much as she could and perform to the best of her capacities. She frequently put in long hours to develop lesson plans and original assignments including worksheets, do nows, and activities/ labs. Her willingness to take suggestions, modify lessons, and experiment with new strategies demonstrated her motivation and reflection about teaching and learning.

Ms. Froonjian displayed many professional qualities normally attributed to outstanding teachers. She carried out her responsibilities in a responsible and dependable manner. She asked for feedback on a daily basis and accepted constructive criticism with maturity. She also did a good job of recognizing when a student needed special assistance or attention. Her ability to manage a daily routine was exemplary and every day she continued to grow in her ability to lead a classroom.

In summary, Ms. Froonjian displayed the qualities that make a teacher successful. She is dependable, motivated, and is in tune with the needs of her students. She works well with colleagues and the administration and is able to learn from those around her. As she continues to grow as a teacher, she will one day develop into an excellent educator.
